AMS Group Vice President to be Honored with a Member of the Order of Australia

Alexandria, VA - Kevin Carroll, the Vice President of AMS Group, will be honored with an OAM (Member of the Order of Australia) after almost 60 years of involvement with the Australian Defence Force. The former RAAF officer and retired squadron leader, has served both in uniform and in industry, believed the catalyst for his honor was his work with the Australian Industry and Defence Network.

"The award, while honoring me personally, also recognizes the Australian Industry and Defence Network, the organization I have passionately supported over the past 21 years," he said.

The network provides support and assistance for small and medium enterprise members dealing with the Defense department, which maximizes Australia's defense capabilities. The veteran's impressive military career spanned decades, including deployments to the Australian Embassy in Washington DC and Malaysia and 25 years as an avionics technician/engineer officer in the RAAF.
